

YANNAH GIRLS TO HONOR TREE

Highschool Plan First Ceremony on Monday Today.

Providence, R. I., May 10.—(Special.)—Of the most novel affairs of the year is the plan at Yannah College to honor when the highschool class will observe the tree day at 10:30 a. m. This observance is a significant one, having some history of a significant significance. It is one of the most important.

The ceremony consisted of a lecture on the tree, involving both sides of nature. It consisted of the tree in the school room, and having the class brought to school the tree in the afternoon. The tree was planted by Miss Lucy Davidson, Assistant N. Y., and Miss Frances Jones of Providence, R. I.—and after a short speech by the tree to a class of about 100. The tree is to be planted in the school room by the committee in charge of the ceremony.

YANNAH COLLEGE
PROVIDENCE, R. I.
OFFICE OF THE
SECRETARY OF THE COLLEGE

April 23, 1911.

My dear Mrs. French,

I have consulted with all of your daughter's instructors, and have received only favorable word in regard to her work and her attitude toward it. At present she is above merely passing grade in each one of the courses, and her instructors find her interested and earnest. I infer from what he said that her record at the end of the semester will be stronger than it was at the close of the first half-year, although we had no fault to find with her then. I think we should be very glad to have more such Yannah girls.

Yours cordially,

Ellen M. Collet

Secretary of the College.
