Dear Nappy,

Certainly it will be all right that you only accept tentatively at this time. To be sure the invitation was given early, but I did so with the idea that there might be other engagements which would take your time so I hoped this would be the first one. Just take all the time you desire in making the other arrangements, and I do hope that Silver Bay will not interfere. I understand the circumstances perfectly, and do not desire to ask anyone else to the races, so do not feel constrained to hurry in your definite acceptance or refusal. Cornell is going to win, and I very much want you to see how it is done.

At one o'clock to-day a photograph of the entire student body is to be taken. Imagine how excited we are.

Before nine o'clock our typists must be prepared so they must start.

Yours sincerely,
John.

P.S. someone used my name like a postscript of
"happy!"
