Dear Mother, Father, and Pete:

Hope you appreciate the new carbon paper, Pete. I imagine you would appreciate a new ribbon, too.

I did some work this morning and took life easy in addition. I do enjoy these Sunday morning loafs, although somehow I cannot accomplish much work even when I want to.

I am going over to Lathrop tonight for supper with Peg Bliss, debate chairman. I don't know what she wants me for. I think I'll try to pump her, diplomatically, if possible, on this Wellesley question.

Otherwise there is nothing new to report, except that I wish the weather would clear up.

Love,

Fannie
