Dear Mother + Father:

I slept till ten o'clock this morning and was too sleepy the rest of the time to do any work.

Heard a splendid talk last night by Miss Elsa Butler, head of the Vassar Unit at Verdun, on their work there. After that we went to the French Club <play> reception for her saw her pictures, + had good refreshments. Then, after that we (Ruth [Bransten], Helen Herz, and I) talked [deep] stuff for three hours. "Deep stuff" might be summed up in "The Position of the Jews in V.C." I showed them the door at 12:30. Perhaps that's why I'm good for nothing today.

At present I am at the infirm. visiting Jeanette [Fellheimer], who has a sprained ankle

Love, Fannie
