

Dear Mother, Father, and Pete:

I really will have time for a real letter tomorrow. I surely am busy and there is a lot to tell you, too, if there were only time for it.

I finished my English topic this morning as the bell rang to go to class. I am glad I got it in on time, because I think it makes a bad impression on the instructor when a topic comes in late. Today I have to speed up on the history one for tomorrow, but the sad part of it is that I have lab fifth and sixth and the dedication of the French tank seventh and eighth. More tomorrow.

That was a great letter, Pete. Good luck to Princeton on Saturday. Also give my best regards to Grace.

Love,        Fannie
