

Dear Mother, Father, and Pete:

There is nothing new to tell you, except that I wish I would wake up. I finished "The Ring and the Bk." last night, and I am trying to review Zo today. It is deadly studying when you are sleepy.

The Bennett School is giving for presentations of "Alcentic" this week-end. I wish I had time to go, but I have to do this exam studying.

The hd[??]s. came--I wrote so the other day.

Love,

Fannie

Saturday.

I didn't get Kayser underwear last year when I bought my own, Mother. These suit me just as well, in fact I think I like them better because they are a little thinner.
