

Thursday morn.

Dearest Daddykins

Thanks muchly for the money

You dear old darling honey!

It will help to make life sunny.

Thanks also for the letter

Which made Peg feel s'much better

That no nothing could upset her.

Well -- I really haven't time to be writing in rhyme, but (mind I'm not deceivin'), I had to get even, with you my dear father, e'en though 'twas a bother! But hark, there's the lunch bell! I'd fain go and munch well, but rather than fare well, I'd send you a farewell, so strong that 'twould wear well, as carpets and rugs -- just cram full of squeezes + hugs.

Peg.
