Biographical Note

Elsie Hill was a feminist, activist and leader in the suffrage movement. Born in Norwalk, Connecticut, in 1883, Hill was the daughter of Mary Eileen Mossman and Ebenezer J. Hill, a Republican Congressman. In 1906 she graduated from Vassar College. She then took a teaching position at a Washington DC high school. It was in Washington that she became active in the suffrage movement and began her life-long friendship with Alice Paul. Hill held leading positions in many organizations but is most well known for her work with the National Woman's Party. Hill's passion for the cause led her to jail (along with her sisters, Clara and Helena) on more than one occasion. After the passage of the 19th amendment, she remained active in the struggle for women's rights, running for public office and working through a variety of organizations to further the cause. From 1921 to 1956 she was married to Albert Lévvitt (1887-1968), a lawyer and politician who served as Judge of the U.S. District Court of the Virgin Islands from 1935 to 1937. The marriage made national news because she kept her maiden name à la Lucy Stone, quite shocking for the era. They had one child, Leslie Hill-Lévvitt Latham (VC 1945-4). In 1968, at the age of 84, she made headlines again when she boarded Pan American Airlines first flight from New York to Moscow. Hill died in Norwalk, Connecticut, August 6, 1970.

For more biographical details, see Hill's profile on the American Memory site at the Library of Congress as well as the clippings in box 86 of Vassar's Elsie Hill collection.
