To Professor Albert Einstein

Princeton, New Jersey

Dear Professor Einstein,

The Hutten Street Realty Corporation, our new real estate company, has, in the meantime, gotten past the necessary formalities and is now a functioning entity. The minutes of the so-called first meeting of the company's directors have been sent to me. There is nothing for you to do in this matter at the moment. I shall attend to the details as required.

I instructed the attorney to approach Zurich again about a response to our detailed letter on the building management and settling of accounts. This latest notification was issued about one week ago.

I was sorry that I could not listen to you on Sunday and that I could not speak with you. I hope that I can make up for it soon.

With kind regards,

Yours,

Otto Nathan
