

<https://digitallibrary.vassar.edu/islandora/object/vassar%3A52784#page/1/mode/1up>

---

Page 1

Peekskill N.Y.
July 19th 1899

The few have no right to the luxuries of life, while the many are
denied it's necessities
Elizabeth Cady Stanton

[includes a black and white print photo of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady
Stanton]

Page 2

[typed transcript]

COPY

Originals in Alma Lutz Collection

Peekskill, N. Y.
July 19th, 1899

The few have no right to the luxuries of life, while the many are
denied it's necessities.
Elizabeth Cady Statnton

---

Mrs. F.W, Richardson compliments of Elizabeth Cady Stanton
New York August 1st, 1896.

---

The Penteteuch makes woman a mere after thought in creation; the author of evil; cursed in her maternity; a subject in marriage; and claims divine authority for that fourfold bondage, this whole-sale disseccration [sic] of the mothers of the race. I do not believe God ever made or inspired such sentiments