

Page 1

[on The Revolution stationary]

Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Editor.
Susan B. Anthony, Proprietor.

The Revolution,

49 East 23d Street, (Woman's Bureau)

New York, Feb 28th 1870.

Mr. Redpath,

Mr Carter sends me a long list of appointments for the West, and I do not think it best to promise to go to New England for one, unless others offer. Miss Anthony can fill that. My illness defers all I have on

Page 2

E. Stanton

New York Feb. 28 '70

Hand two weeks which will keep me busy until nearly the 1st of May. I wish you could write us spicy Boston letters for the Rev What would you ask for each letter

Yours sincerely

E Cady Stanton

Page 3

Alma Lutz Collection

Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Editor. The Revolution,
Susan B. Anthony, Proprietor.

New York, Feb 28th 1870

Mr. Redpath

Mr Carter sends me a long list of appointments for the West &
I do not think it best to promise to go to New England for one, unless others offer. Mis Anthony can fill that. My illness defers all I have on hand two weeks which will keep me busy until nearly the 1st of May.
I wish you could write us spicy Boston letters for the Rev. What would you ask for each letter

Yours sincerely

E Cady Stanton